H.P.C.-home away from home ... Here we eat, sleep, laugh, cry, and learn for nine months. These brick buildings become our permanent place of dwelling. And it is around and in these buildings that our lives take new and different meaning.

Nine months, we spend in wistful dreaming during serenades, joining clubs with Freshman fervor, desiring mail, and just trying to be ourselves in the surrounding college conformity.

Above us stands a tower guarding all we do. Under her shadow we seek learning meditation, companionship, love.

Soon we identify ourself with H.P.C. and brand car. We become participants in all the extra college activities — we cheer our "panthers," try our own skill in intermurals, rush for our fraternity, play bridge in the student center . . .

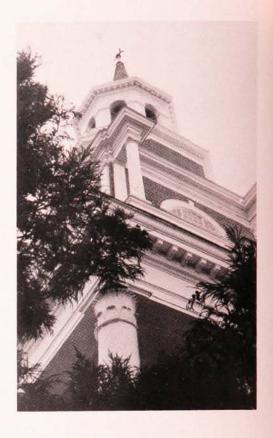

do research for that term paper, and wonder where our time goes.

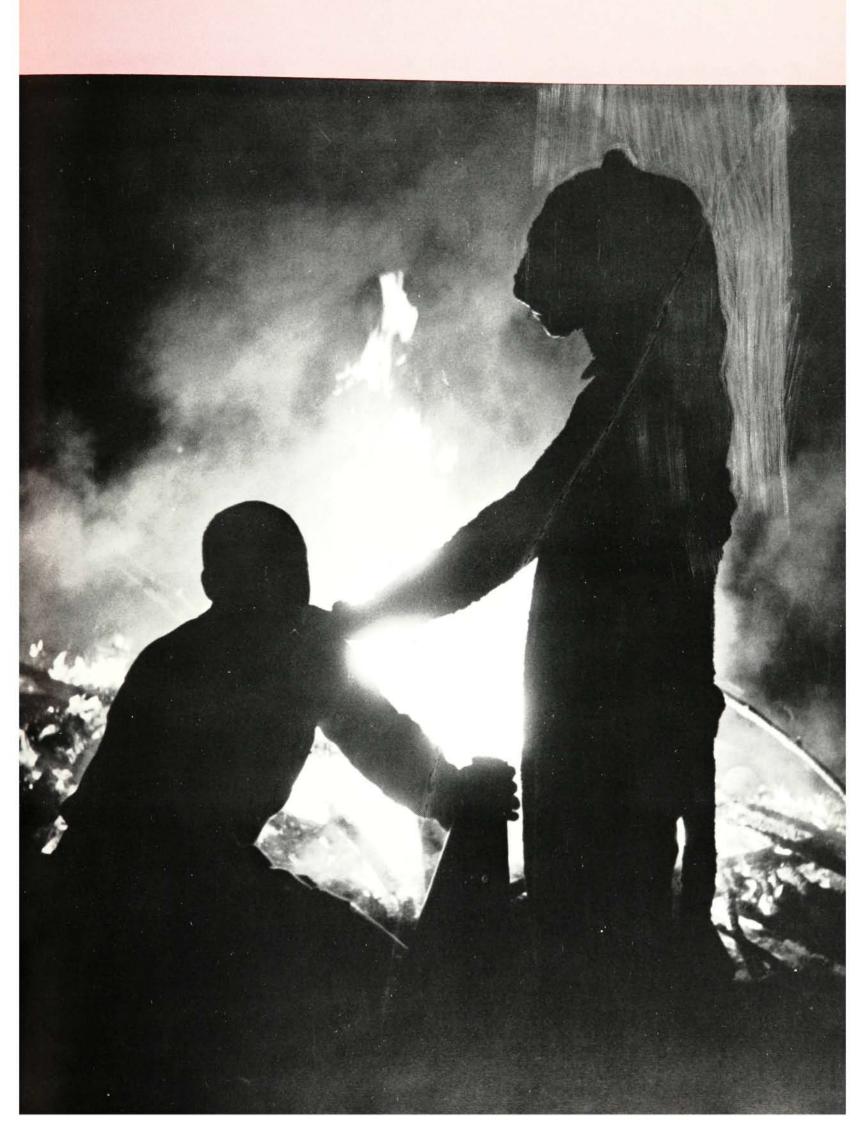

The months pass and we ask ourself were they went. We are left many memories, and, more than this, we are left with something else. We have gained KNOWLEDGE.

"King of the Charleston"

Rather than asking to be understood, he is understanding.

Rather than asking to be heard, he listens.

Rather than asking that we love him, he loves us.

He knows that the greatest things in life are those which when shared multiply—whether in the classroom, at forums, during consultations, or on the stage.

He has shared with us poised individuality and graceful wisdom. Many of us have come to a greater awareness of life and Life because his faith is strong, yet humble.

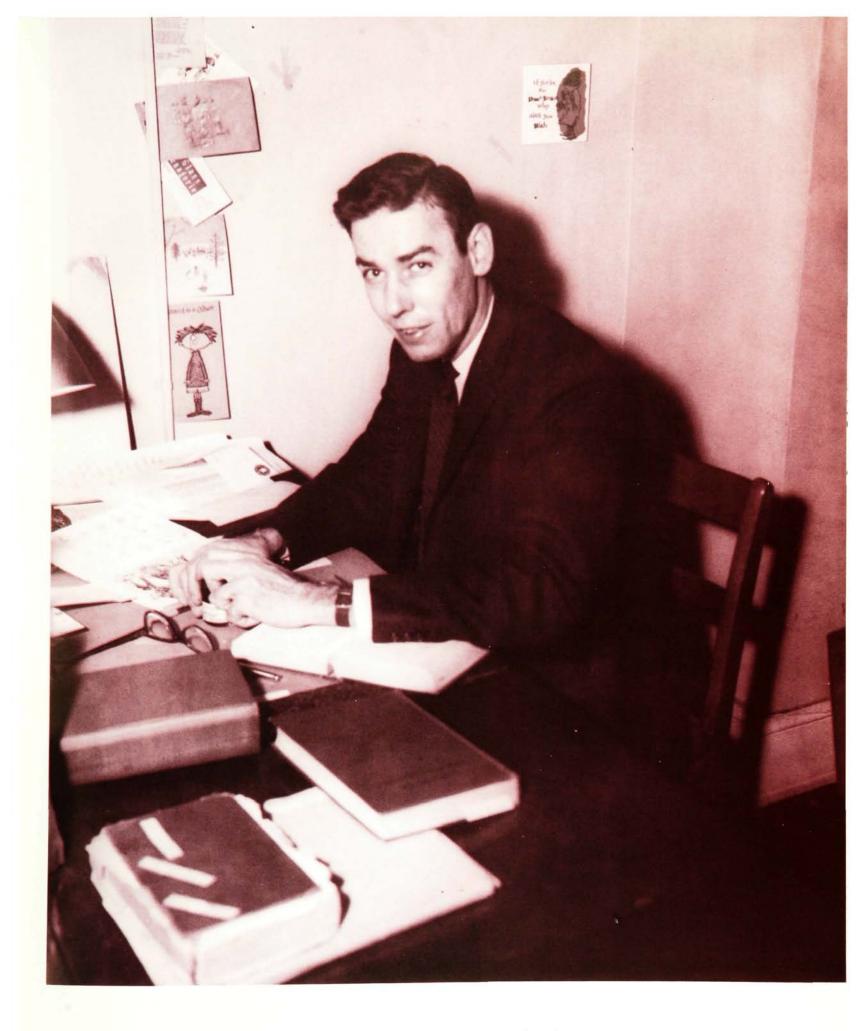

Shakespeare wrote of one of his characters, "This was a man."

Contemporary Holden Caulfield searched for the "real" man in a world of "phonies."

We need not search. For in Dr. Walter E. Hudgins, we have found a MAN who is the REAL.

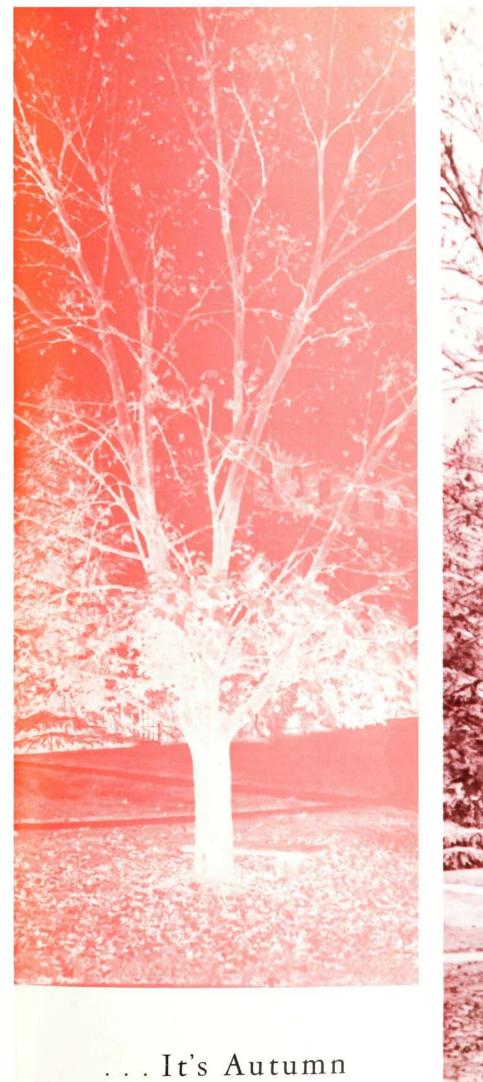

For being what you are, We honor you . . .

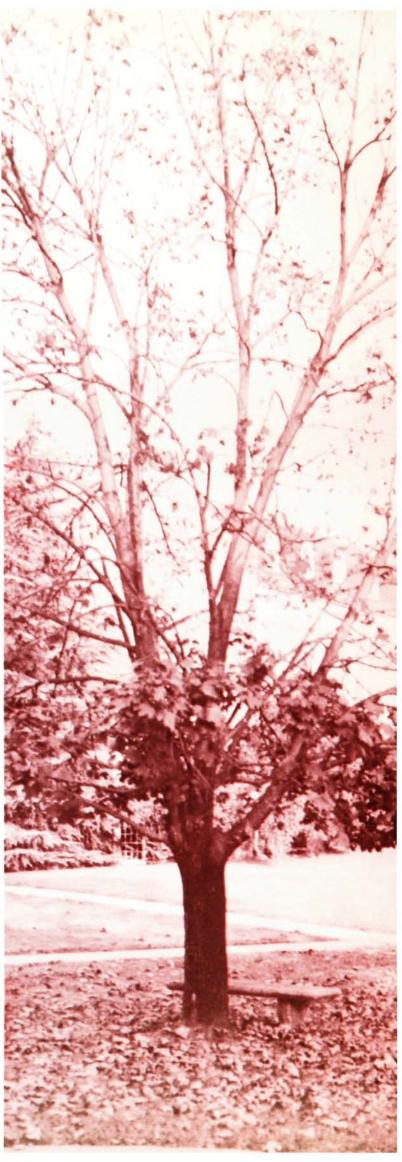

Dr. Walter E. Hudgins

... and back to High Point U from North, South, East, West, and High Point, we returned ... weejuns, madras, and registration lines confronted us ... the orientated Freshman learned the alma mata ... 8:20 classes and Saturday nite frat parties, we are back in the routine ... switched to the brand of the tatooed man — no hi-fi ... read "Gort" and laughed ... watched and followed Lewin ... went to chapel without umbrellas ... "X'd" our calendars until at last T'giving.

Our President

MESSAGE TO CLASS OF 1962

Almost overnight you have been transformed from students to alumni!

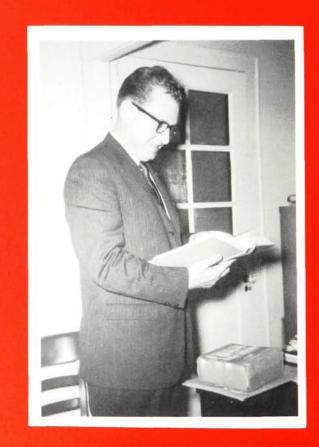

We are proud of you. You begin your careers in a magnificent year, one abounding with opportunities wherever you may go and however you may serve. Let me take this moment to remind you that the world needs what you have to offer. At no time in history have such frontiers existed, nor has there been greater need for the knowledge, courage, and devotion of educated Christians as today.

As you leave our campus we can't help but reflect and hope. We hope that we offered you the right learning experiences and that you took advantage of as many opportunities for learning as possible. We hope that you profited from both your in-class and out-of-class experiences. We hope that you did more than learn facts, dates, and places—but instead have come to possess new knowledge and skills and attitudes that not only make you a better person, but better equipped to make your contribution to a world who desperately needs you.

God bless you and keep you.

Windel M. Patton

Deans

TO THE CLASS OF 1962:

The world today needs men and women who have learned to think for themselves. The future of democracy is dependent upon the qualities of leadership not only in the political area but in personal relations.

My greatest hope is that you have laid the foundations for these qualities here at High Point College. The faculty and administration have tried to create an atmosphere in class and on the campus which fosters student participation and social growth.

As your Dean, I am proud of the many advancements you students have made these four years. If you carry through into your careers and lives the same enthusiasm and understanding of the problems of others that you have shown here, you will live useful lives and make a contribution to society from which all your associates may benefit.

Good luck and God bless you all.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

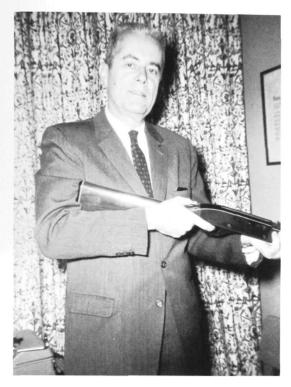

DEAN OF STUDENTS

TO THE CLASS OF 1962:

May I take this opportunity to express my great appreciation for the cooperation and spirit of fair play that you have shown through the years at High Point College. May you continue to use the growth you have attained here as you make your contribution in your chosen field. May life give to you all the blessings that you can assimilate into your life.

We pay tribute to . . . .

With News Commentator Paul Harvey.

Behind the scenes of each campus activity are vitally essential people who are seldom brought forward for just recognition. Because the Zenith Staff is well aware of this fact, we have chosen to dedicate this space to one of these people, thereby showing to some small degree our appreciation. The person we have chosen is friendly, charming, and understanding, and is never too busy to show interest in our campus activities, organizations, and in individual students. For her interest in our student body, for her willingness to serve, for the many reasons which words are powerless to express fully, we, with love, respect and gratitude, acknowledge . . .

"Jerry, you students never cease to amaze me."

FRESHMEN OFFICERS: Gail Nichols, secretary; Fred Winters, president; and Steve Montague, treasurer, cheer at the bonfire sponsored by their class

I am a Freshman. Amid the confusion of packing and unpacking clothes, getting accustomed to peanut butter sandwiches, trying to conjugate verbs in a very foreign language, and rubbing my aching muscles after a rousing P. E. class, I have become a more independent individual with the realization that college is an experience from which I can gain nothing if I do not know how to live and work with others.

Hi-Po Staff

GEORGE WIGGLESWORTH Editor-in-Chief

What words can best describe the 1961-62 HI-PO? New? Better? Different? Daring? We, the staff, feel that each of these words are appropriate; together, they give a picture of this year's HI-PO.

The HI-PO is new, new from the staff to the printer. The HI-PO is better. We have better pictures, better articles, better and more up-to-date coverage. The HI-PO is different. We have a regular column on the front page, rotating editorials, and eye-catching fraternity page. The HI-PO is daring. The editorial policy is to print the truth, and some of our articles have been controversial. We feel that this year's HI-PO, being new, better, different, and daring, has caused more campus interest and has created a more informed campus.

We feel that we have made many improvements, but many more are left to be made. It is our hope that our bi-monthly newspaper will grow into a weekly publication. Our hope rests with you—you, the 1962-63 HI-PO staff.

Executive

BOB CLARK Vice-President

The Student Government Association of High Point College strives earnestly to carry out its purpose, that being "to develop student honor and selfcontrol, to encourage right ideals and promote personal responsibility, and to foster the principles of self-government." It is the immediate duty of the Executive Council to employ this purpose as a governing process by acting as a working arm and a co-ordinator of the other branches of the S.G.A. The Student Government has as its goal this year to become an efficient organization in practice and not in theory. It sought to become a governing body and not merely a sponsor of activities, even though this part of the program did not cease. The year began with high hopes and ambitions and ended with many accomplishments, not only on the part of the Executive Council, but on the part of the entire student body. Everyone gained a greater sense of unity and loyalty to the school they have come to love.

The S.G.A. officers wish the Student Government success in the years to come.

SANDRA HOOKS Secretary

JERRY KYLE Treasurer

Judiciary

Judiciary Representatives "The Verdict Is Yours"

DAN EARNHARDT, Chief Justice

The Judiciary Council, one of the three branches of the Student Government, is the final authority on all judicial matters. It has the responsibility of trying cases of infraction of S.G.A. laws, and determining and enforcing punishment for these infractions. However, all persons accused of offenses are innocent until proven guilty and the burden of proof falls upon the prosecution. This year the Judiciary Council, with Dan Earnhardt as Chief Justice, has proven itself to be a stern and just court.

House of Representatives

ALLEN SHARPE Speaker of the House

OFFICERS: Dave Burgess, Linda Wood, Francis Dail, and John Ward.

The House of Representatives is one of the two houses that compose the legislative body of the Student Government Association. Representation to the House is based proportionately on the membership of each class and bonafide organization at High Point College. Unless a special called meeting is deemed necessary, the House convenes on the first and third Thursday of each month to transact any legislation concerning the Student Government Association. In important legislation this year, the House has passed both the Unicameral System and a revised edition of the Honor Code. Through competent representation, the House is able to initiate important legislation and fulfill a dire need of student participation in school government as well as to provide practical experience in governmental procedure.

Senate

BOB CLARKE Speaker of the Senate

The Senate of the Student Government Association is one of the houses of Student Legislature, composed of three members from each of the four classes of the college. The Senators are elected by vote of the classes, and serve for the entire school year. The Vice-President of the Student Government serves as Speaker of the Senate, and is responsible for encouraging activity in the Senate and communication of legislation from the Senators to the members of the classes. This year the Senate has dealt with many vital problems on the campus, and has passed legislation concerning every area of campus endeavor, from academic standards to specific social situations. The Senate has been contributed to the enlargement of participation by students in important extracurricular functions.

"Will the meeting please come to order?"

Women's Dormitories

The Women's Dormitory Council serves as a mediator between the women residents and the Student Government Association.

This year the Council adopted a new and more effective sign out system. There was a successful experiment with a nolights out program for upperclassmen. Greatly aided by the guidance and understanding of Debbie, Mrs. Bennett, and Mrs. Warren, the dormitory has had a very successful year.

Men's Dormitory

The Men's Dormitory Council strives to work out minor problems concerning resident students. This is done through close relationship with the Student Government and the administration.

Certain aspects of freshman orientation are handled by the officers of the Men's Dormitory Council. We believe that education does not stop in the classroom; therefore we try to foster group living and an educational experience.

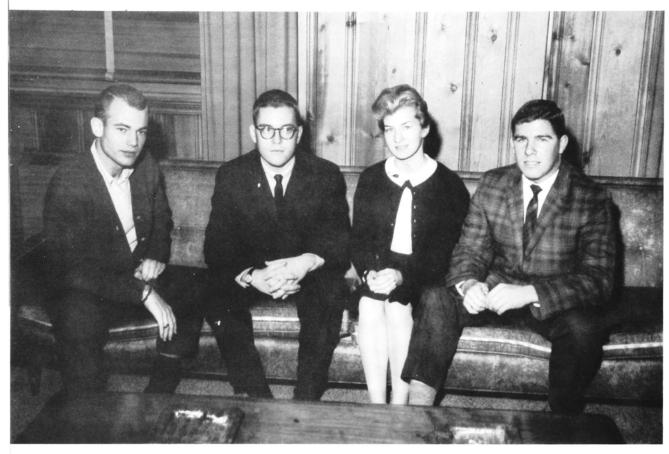

The dormitory council has been very fortunate this year in working with the new resident mother, Mrs. McMeekin Kerr. She has been very successful in making dormitory life more enjoyable and rewarding.

High Point College Gavel Club

One of the newest organizations on the High Point College campus, the High Point College Gavel Club, was formed early last fall by a group of students interested in speaking in public. By affording a small, sympathetic audience and constructive criticism, the club gives members an opportunity to improve their ability to appear before an audience and to speak effectively. Every member is given the opportunity to speak at each bi-weekly meeting. The Club receives assistance from both Toastmasters International and Piedmont Toastmasters of High Point.

President David Rowe calls the meeting to order.

Commander George W. Netts, USN (Ret:), faculty advisor, assisted in the formation of the Club and also in securing its affiliation with Toastmasters International.

Young Democrats Club

Service to the college, training for students, and action for the community are the things for which the High Point College Young Democrats Club stand.

In the two semesters of the clubs existence, we have sponsored several public meetings for the benefit of the community and the college. Senators, representatives, and mayors have entertained and informed us at the college this year. We have planned debates, held information sessions, and have taken part in a close community election. These activities have made the High Point College chapter the most active and the most talked about Young Democrats Club in the state.

Epsilon Sigma Omicron

Epsilon Sigma Omicron is the professional Home Economics Sorority. It is for girls who are majoring in home economics, and for the ones who are taking or have taken any course in home economics.

The purpose of Epsilon Sigma Omicron is to promote a spirit of cooperation among the home economics members and their associates on the campus, to promote wider and better understanding of the value of home economics to other individuals, to stimulate interest of its members in professional growth, and to develop the personality, character, leadership, and social poise of its members.

Physical Education Majors Club

President Sam White presides at a monthly meeting.

The Physical Education Majors' Club is one of the more important professional organizations on the campus. The club was organized to further the individual welfare of its members; to foster activities in the field of Physical Education; to facilitate interest through programs, methods, techniques and activities; to promote a sound campus and community understanding of Physical Education; and to raise the professional standards for future occupation.

The club is very active with annual projects such as Co-Recreation night, handling programs and the concession stand at the basketball games, sale of pins, sending delegates to state and national conventions, and awarding a plaque to the outstanding senior major. Also each year the club has a special project to benefit the department and the college. This year for the first time the club organized and sponsored a college bowling league.

We hope that through membership in our organization the students will gain the knowledge and tools to become leaders in tomorrow's world.

Preparing for the half-time rush.

Intramural Council

The Intramural Council is composed of members of the Physical Education Club and representatives of the four sororities on campus. The council plans a schedule for the sororities and independent teams to compete in various sports including basketball, volleyball, softball, and badminton. This year the council worked closely with the Physical Education majors to make Co-Recreational Night a success.

1961-62 marked the sixth year on the High Point College campus for the Westminster Fellowship, the Presbyterian student organization, with Annette Young as president.

The religious projects, participation in the religious program of the college, and other activities, Westminster has continued to demonstrate that it has a place on campus. Westminster meets twice a month at the home of its sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. McKinny.

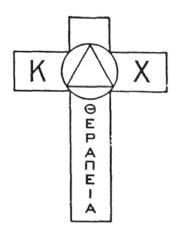

Meetings feature inspiring and enlightening programs and discussions of importance to Christian students. Programs are followed by periods of fellowship. Students of all denominations are welcome to attend the meetings and to take part in the activities of the fellowship.

The officers are Annette Young, president; Jane Smith, vice-president; Mary Lew Smith, secretary; Judy Longwith, SGA Representative; Milbrey Beland, devotions chairman.

Kappa Chi Fellowship

Kappa Chi is an organization composed of all men students who are planning to enter or who are interested in Christian vocations. It provides a medium of religious instruction and a dynamic fellowship in which all members may share. Participation in other campus activities is emphasized. The highlights of the Kappa Chi year, which include the stimulating programs, the chorus performances, and the annual Thanksgiving banquet, are remembered for a long time by all members.

Alpha Delta Theta

Service, leadership, and friendship are three words synonymous with Alpha Delta Theta. These are our guiding principles as sisters in the service of God. Highlights of our year were the Pledge Program, which gave our organization 29 new sisters. The outstanding pledge of the pledge class, Carol Geist, was recognized at the initiation at Montlieu Methodist Church. Many of the girls attended our Fall Retreat at Millbrook, the home of Mrs. Ed Millis. Our speaker at the Retreat was Mr. Grady Whicker. Again this year Alpha Delta Theta held weekly dorm devotions. Another year is near its end, but we are sure it will always have a special meaning to us who are sisters in the service of God.

Fellowship Teams

The HPC Fellowship Teams are now in their eighth year of service to local churches. The purpose of this organization is two-fold: to strengthen the youth program in local churches and to lead youth in more abundant Christian living; to enable HPC students to gain experience in youth work of the church. Our teams strive to develop leadership among the youth with whom we work, to help the youth groups to help themselves, to present Christianity on its highest levels for all areas of life—through programs of worship, singing, guidance in long-range and unit planning, recreation, and service projects.

Fine Arts

The Fine Arts Department . . . where the magic of make-up and costuming transforms our fellow students into dramatic characters from times past and times present . . . The tensions of a French courtroom, the bustle of Broadway, the dramatic simplicity of the Orient—these become reality . . .

Many back-stage crews . . . actors repeating lines time after time until they become second nature . . . rewards and challenges . . . Creative minds gathering in the art lab putting abstract ideas into concrete form—the careful images of the mind's eye. Music fills the air with sounds of every intensity and kind. Some—fine, precise, and polished . . . others—telling of a less experienced, yet no less dedicated student, hard at work improving tone and control.

Here is the most expectant atmosphere on campus. At any moment a new character may appear on stage, a new idea may work into reality on canvas or in the sculptor's clay . . . a new melody may burst forth, seemingly free from the mistakes of practicing fingers. It is perhaps a kind of magic, but more truly we might say it has a personality. It is magic with a unique personality—a personality which needs to be loved to live.

The Band

The concert band helps to increase musical enjoyment and understanding among its members and among its audiences by studying thoroughly and performing effectively the best band literature of all periods. In addition to concerts on campus and in the High Point vicinity, the band makes an extended tour each year.

The Choir

Jerry Kivett, president, looks over a new song with some of the rest of the clan.

"Uncle Jay" poses in front of the "Easter Egg."

Hop aboard the Easter Egg and once again you'll be Among the concert choirsters where the fun and laughter's free.

We're off again on choir tour and you'd better stay on your toes

Cause with Dash at the wheel and Frosty's jokes—believe me, anything goes.

We've rehearshed and worked quite diligently We've tried Uncle Jay's patience continuously.

But now the worst is behind And we can settle back with a sound peace of mind.

Indeed, our organization is quite unique For we're like a family so to speak.

We share a deep and abiding pride When we stand with each other side by side.

And when we graduate we never forget The fun, the laughter, the work, and the sweat.

Choir was more than a purple and white throng It meant more than a name; we did more than belong.

"Hurry, Frosty, we go out in 30 seconds!"

Jay Fryhover has slipped away for a minute while the choir "breaks."

The Tower Players

The Tower Players of High Point College is the drama organization on campus, the members of which are drawn from the student body. Anyone who is interested in the theater, whether it be acting, lighting, stage work, or advertising and who has taken part in any of the phases of play production in any of the year's work is a member of the Tower Players. Having an impressive background of "name" shows such as "Death of a Salesman," "Macbeth," "The Glass Menagerie," "Guys and Dolls," "Teahouse of the August Moon," and "Girl Crazy," the Players staged the memorable works to be seen on the following pages, which were given in the spring and fall semesters of 1961. The officers of the Tower Players in these two semesters were:

ED STAFFORD President
HARVEY SHAW Vice President
VIVIANE LLOYD Secretary
JERRY KIVETT Treasurer
ARLENE LANZIERI Historian
JEFF JOHNSON Representative to the House

THE APOLLO OF BELLAC, by Jean Gireaudeaux, was presented by the acting class under the direction of Miss Jane DeSpain, and given in the assembly of February 8, 1961. This witty and well written one act comedy was well received by the students.

The tremendously dramatic offering of the great Irish playwright Sean O'Casey, "Juno and the Paycock," was the Tower Players' major production in the spring semester being directed by Miss Jane DeSpain, and given on the 24 and 25 of March 1961. This fine work on the Irish Civil War combined horror, humanity, and the breakup of a lower middle class family in Dublin to give the Tower Players a vehicle for a laudable performance.

Costuming and make-up are two important aspects of any production.

"The Prophecy of Amos"

The play—a manifestation of HPC genius . . . Scripture plus Dr. Hugins' skillful interpretations . . . brilliant musical score by Dr. Lewis . . . Ed Stafford, who made Amos the prophet live . . . Phil Reines as the pompous priest . . . Selma Hazemy as the soft-voiced messenger . . . Marty Jacobs, a superb director and gentleman . . . Miss Rose, Clara Jane, Manuel, Uncle Jay, Pat . . . a memory and a promise . . . "The Prophecy of Amos."

THE PROPHECY OF AMOS

"A MODERN INTERPRETATION IN MUSIC AND MOVEMENT"

Students Art League

In the spring of 1961, several art majors met with the purpose of forming an art club. Thelma Mitchell was the instigator of this idea and with the help of Mr. Raiford Porter, the Students Art League was formed. A constitution was written and stated the purpose of this club is, "to create for the students of High Point College a greater enjoyment, appreciation, and understanding of the world of art."

Since last spring the Students Art League has grown and now includes twenty members. On our calendar of events this year were scheduled movies, a demonstration, and a show. In November we sponsored a display of paintings and prints by Edwin Shewmake for the College in the foyer of Memorial Auditorium. To raise money we sponsored a "Mr. Ugly" contest. Then in December we held an art sale of the members' work. We have enjoyed our first year as a new club and already have many plans for the future.

Gamma Gamma of Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta Sorority was founded on October 23, 1897, at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. It has been expanded and strengthened by many thousands of college women who have formed close ties within its bounds and found self-expression in building its organization.

Our white rose, symbol of purity and honor, holds our story enveloped within its folds. The day we become pledges the bud of the rose materializes. This day brings a glimpse of the happiness that will be ours tomorrow as the bud matures. Through work, care, and love, the bud is finally a rose in full bloom. Our hearts have been passed into the full bloom of maturity and Sisterhood.

Forever striving to do that which is right and true, we, the members of Kappa Delta, have found the key to the future through love, honor, beauty, and truth.

Delta Gamma of Zeta Tau Alpha

Since it's founding at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, on October 15, 1898, Zeta Tau Alpha Fraternity has fostered a close bond of sisterhood for over forty thousand girls. The one-hundredth link was added to Zet's silver chain of chapters when Lambda Alpha Phi, a local sorority at High Point College, became Delta Gamma Chapter of the National Fraternity on May 11, 1957. Every member of Zeta Tau Alpha holds dear the colors of our Fraternity, steel gray and turquoise blue, and the fair flower, the white violet, which are the emblems of a sisterhood whose noble purpose is to intensify friendships, foster a spirit of love, create such sentiments, perform such deeds, and mold such opinions as will conduce to the building up of a purer and nobler womanhood in the world.

In a cloud of dust the day-dodgers, Ringley, Jane, and Barbara, came screeching to a halt at the Panhellenic House in Elliott's yellow convertible, just in time for a Zeta meeting. Inside the house President Paxton called the meeting to order with a rap of the gavel and, "Hey, y'all, let's get the show on the road!" Magoo with Moffett and the pitch pipe led the singing, while Dot tried to control Emery and her twisting.

Delta Zeta of Delta Sigma Phi

In 1889, in New York, at the College of the City of New York, Delta Sigma Phi was founded. Since then Delta Sigs have become known on campuses all over the nation and Canada.

A Delta Sig is many things. He is a person who loves his fraternity and what it stands for. He is willing to make personal sacrifices for his fraternity without expecting applause. He has learned to respect others and puts the interests of the group before his own. He is interested in improving his scholarship; in developing his personality, and in making a leader of himself. He realizes the help his fraternity will give him in later life and the advantages it offers him. Leadership . . . Scholarship . . . Personality development . . . Social Life . . . This has been a most successful year for Lambda Chi Alpha. Much water has gone over the dam, carrying with it certain events and leaving fond memories.

Our social activities were "TOPS." The outstanding being the annual "White Rose" and "Beach Ball." What a time! Anyone disagree?

During the year we saw the wedding bells ring for three of our brothers, congratulation to Ralph, Dave and Carroll. Lambda Chi is well represented officially in various campus organizations. We are proud of our brothers who hold these offices.

We welcome Bill Adams' return to High Point. He saw the light and came south again.

Rember the serenades? We hear our singing has improved. Will Brothers Wilson and Phillips forget those nights?

As we hold on to our memories, we also look forward to the future.

Basketball

The average sports fan loves to attend athletic events and cheer his favorite team to victory, which is a natural thing. But let's stop and think a minute and take a look at what actually goes into the planning for a full season and each individual game.

The picture above is a typical afternoon spent in Alumni Gymnasium by the "Purple Panthers." But this photo could have very well been taken over the Thanksgiving holidays while the average student is home enjoying all the turkey and trimmings, or during the Christmas holidays when everyone is enjoying the cheer of the holiday season — everyone except our basketball players, that is. The truth of the matter is that the High Point College basketball player is not an "average student." He has a job to do and a reputation to uphold even if this means spending the various holidays throughout the year in preparation for the season or the next game on schedule.

Practice sessions in basketball, as in any sport, are hard work. Many hours of mental and physical strain are put into these daily sessions. Opponents' key players are discussed, misunderstandings are settled, and the building of unity and spirit are just a few things accomplished in practice.

If certain phases of the game aren't being played well, the team will work extra hard at this fallback, and consequently spend the entire practice smoothing it out

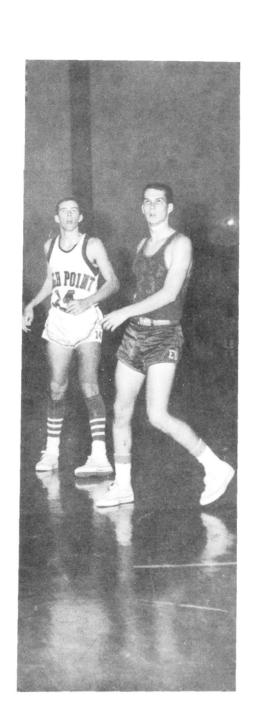

A generalized yearly practice schedule, which the Panthers follow from the beginning of October until the first of March looks something like this. Beginning the first three to four weeks a strict conditioning program is kept. Running is the best way to get in shape to play basketball, and the Panthers do their share in the early season workouts. As the first of November rolls around, the boys appear to be in pretty good shape and start setting up their offensive style of play. Finally, as the weather begins to chill and the freshmen begin to adjust to college life, December is here, as is the first basketball game. The pre-season preparations are over, and the time has come for the Panthers to begin play in the rough Carolina's Conference.

During the actual season, the coaches scout the various opponents, and the practices are now dedicated to studying the next opponent in full detail. Key men are sighted, and the offensive and defensive play of the opponents is discussed. The Panthers will set a man-to-man defense and work against the opponents' offensive pattern so that they will get a good idea of what to expect. If the opponent uses a zone defense, the cagers work against the zone and find out where the weak spots are and from where their best shots come. Practice, if handled in the correct manner, can be the most beneficial phase of preparation for a basketball team.

In concluding, let's examine the above picture in somewhat greater detail. As seen, intense discussion and concentration is taking place and the exploits of hard work and victory can be noticed. The average student couldn't possibly go through such a vigorous activity program, but for our basketball players it is a daily routine.

"So boy, you had better listen, I kind of believe that what Coach Yow is explaining is for your benefit as well as for the second sec fit as well as for the team.

COACH VIRGIL YOW

Basketball

From the dirty-faced little boy in the street to the dignity of manhood, we find the sturdy creatures called athletes. These strong-willed young men come in assorted heights, weights, colors, and religious beliefs, but all possess the same creed: to play every minute of every game to the best of their ability. Athletes are found everywhere—dribbing around, jumping over, sliding in or driving through their opponent. Teammates rib them, students cheer them, coaches criticize them, and mothers worry about them. Athletes are truly unusual people. They are often criticized and even sometimes ridiculed and humiliated, but they never give up. They don't know the meaning of such a word. They may not be All Americans, but they are a symbol of the American way. They are not judged for their race, religion, social position, or financial status, but by the way they sacrifice individual glory for the good of the team. They are hard-working, untiring, determined, and often stubborn people. They are athletes . . . they are our team.

Tournament

As the Panthers journeyed to Lexington to participate in the annual Carolina Conference Tournament, all concerned wondered if they could repeat their wonderous feat of a year ago. The cagers, with a 12-11 record for the season and seated fifth in the tournament, drew top seated Lenoir Rhyne as their first game. Emotions were mixed and a feeling of unsureness filled the air. However, with "Bear Meat" chanting throughout the stands, High Point proceeded to trounce their biggest rival, 91-77, and advance to the semifinals against Elon's "Christians."

Next, Elon fell to the "troops", 80-73, and the fired-up cagers seemed to be on their way to another conference title.

Meanwhile, the big "Cats" from the mountains at Western Carolina were breezing through their competition bracket and had gained the final game. They had won the title in 1959, had finished this season in second place, and earned the right to meet our Panthers for the championship.

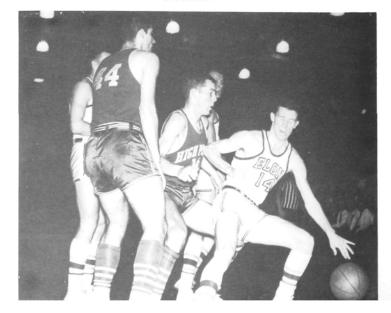

The stage was set and the gymnasium filled to capacity as the contest began. The hard fought first half ended with the "Catamounts" claiming a two point advantage. Western Carolina, possessors of great size and speed, pulled away from the younger Panthers in the second half and won the high spirited championship affair, 69-58. The victors had played well.

"Jug" received the M.V.P. trophy as he once again led the tournament in scoring and rebounding. Congratulations are in order to all the players for an exciting season. It's all over for another season. "... wait until next year."

"... and we got it!"

Simplicity won another trophy for the Alpha Gams.

Homecoming . . .

An unusually sunny day set the stage for one of HPC's most memorable Homecomings.

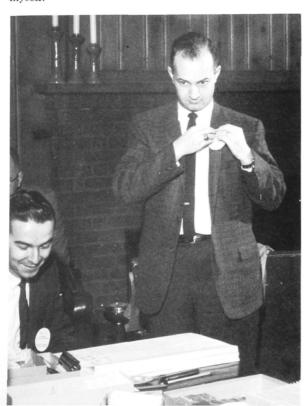

The exciting day began at dawn as sleepy Greeks invaded the front lawn with their clever displays. Alumni then began appearing seemingly from nowhere-well-dressed, "ooing" over the "so many changes", smiling, reliving their own college days. The students attended classes as usual, but spirits were high as weary bodies decorated for the dance, rested before the game, and dressed for the big date.

The crowning of Mary Lou Troutman as the queen, the victory over Catawba, and a lovely dance climaxed a perfect Homecoming.

Pika says, "Flush that Injun."

"Golly, it seems like only yesterday I was a student myself."

"You old so-and-so's; you knew all along!"

Baseball

What does a won-lost record actually mean? Absolute Nothing! except how many games a team has lost compared to how many they've won. It doesn't give a true picture of the sweat, hard work, and desire that has been put forth in each game, whether win or lose. This final recording of the team's season fails to show the two out bottom of the ninth loses, the extra inning defeats, or the heart breaking 1-0 loss where a pitcher has hurled a beautiful game only to lose by such a discouraging margin. No, the won-lost record doesn't really show the basic mechanics and seasonal output of a team in its truest sense.

Here at High Point College our baseball team in recent campaigns has never really had an impressive won-lost record, and anyone basing the team on this fact has sorely "missed the boat." These persons haven't obtained a true indication of the team's overall play throughout the course of the season.

From the beginning games in the cool March air to the season finals in May's warm sun, the Panther nine has always exhibited hustle, determination, and an honest desire to win. This season has been no exception as the diamond men have played hard and well, and should certainly be looked upon as a credit to our college. This year's club practiced diligently and put forth an honest effort and certainly have given us an exciting season.

With each passing year High Point's baseball teams are improving, and through the steady play this year of Ray Fraley, Sam White, Charlie Willard, Don Cashion, David Kemp, Larry Nolan, Roy Greenwood, Joe Keith, Harold Moose, and the Grant twins, this year is no exception. Many of these same players will return again next year, and if the incoming freshmen prospects produce, the Panthers will certainly be a team to reckon with in the future.

Track

Hurtles, batons, bars, poles, exercise, hard work, and determination are familiar terms that bring to mind our Panthers Track Team. Whether conditioning for or participating in a conference meet, these spring athletes are truly a remarkable group. This year our team of veterans led by Wagner along with several new faces makes the prospects for this year look bright.

Scholastic Honor Society

To stimulate the love of learning and to recognize and encourage scholarship, the Scholastic Honor Society was inaugurated in 1957. Membership in the Scholastic Honor Society is one of the greatest honors bestowed upon a student. For election as a junior, the candidate must have completed 75 semester hours of regular college work with a quality point ration of 2.75. The minimum ration for election as a senior is 2.25. Membership in this society consists of students, honorary and associate members.

Well, the yearbook is finished. This is a phrase I have been longing to say for almost nine months. Now that it is over, it seems unreal. I have learned that to be editor of a yearbook one has to be a mathematician, a copywriter, a photographer and a five hour a night sleeper. I have learned also that it is impossible for the work to be done alone. With a faithful staff having a common goal, the editorship has truly been worth the headaches and the hours of time and effort. As I look back, the bad is overshadowed by the good, and I personally feel that our goal has been accomplished, that the ZENITH has captured the spirit of High Point College and in these terms is a success.

This year we have tried to keep the ZENITH in pace with the new ideas and feeling we have seen develop on this campus. Throughout this year we have seen an improved Hi Po, the beginnings of a new form of student government, and the embryonic stage of a new spirit develop in the students on our campus. We have endeavored to make the ZENITH a personal publication. The '61-'62 ZENITH is your words, your pictures, one year of your life.

I hope you have enjoyed your venture through Autumn, Winter, and Spring.

The Editor
